

NUArts and the YWCA of the Niagara Frontier present

The Clothesline Project

On the portico of the Castellani Art Museum
Monday, Oct. 2, through Friday, Oct. 13, 2017.

All NU students, student organizations, staff and faculty are encouraged to participate, as are individuals and organizations throughout Niagara County.

Completed t-shirts should be delivered to Michael Beam at the Castellani Art Museum anytime before Oct. 2, 2017.

The Clothesline Project is presented in association with the Domestic Violence Awareness Event: Surviving ... Thriving: A Journey of Healing through Art, being held at the Castellani Art Museum on Thursday, Oct. 5, 2017, 5–8 p.m. Sponsored by Niagara University Department of Criminal Justice.

For more information, please contact Michael Beam, Curator of Exhibitions and Special Projects, at 716.286.8286 or mjbeam@niagara.edu.

For assistance on campus please contact the Counseling Center, Seton Hall, Lower Level at 716.286.8536.

For information about off-campus advocacy and counseling contact Rachel Sandle-Sacco, Sexual Violence Prevention Educator and Victim's Advocate at the YWCA of the Niagara Frontier, 716.433.6714 or rsandle@ywcanf.org.

Many on and off campus organizations have collaborated to make this event possible:

eliminating racism
empowering women
ywca

CASTELLANI
ART MUSEUM OF NIAGARA UNIVERSITY

For more information about The Clothesline Project, Inc. National Network visit www.clotheslineproject.org.