Guest Speaker: Alison Lytle

Alison Lytle will take you on a personal journey of artistic encounters and discoveries centered on her 20+ year residency in Rome, Italy. You will enter movingly and insightfully into a space where art and architectural surprises merge with everyday life and activities, where antiquities influence the commonplace, where eyes are opened and minds awakened to pay closer, more careful, more generous attention to the remarkable realities all around us. Alison Lytle was Vice Director of the University of Washington's "Rome Center" and Senior Director of the University of Dallas' Rome campus. She has taught numerous youth- and adult-workshops and classes, and developed multi-lingual community-outreach initiatives. Her artwork has been exhibited internationally. She currently teaches in the Theatre and Fine Arts Department of Niagara University and is a "Teaching Artist" in the "Art Express" program at the Castellani Art Museum.

*Admission is free for Castellani Art Museum and NACC members/$5 suggested donation for non-members. Membership sign-up is available at the registration table at each lecture.
