

Witness to Injustice: Kairos Blanket Exercise

Thursday, April 13th,
1 PM to 4 PM
in Niagara University's Vincentian Center for Justice
in Bailo Hall

What is a Kairos Blanket Exercise? The Blanket Exercise is based on using Indigenous methodologies and the goal is to build understanding about our shared history as Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples. It is an experiential learning tool that leads a group of participants through 500+ years of Indigenous history that highlights Indigenous relationships with European explorers, colonial settlers, and the U.S. federal and state governments.

Who should attend? Anyone interested in using participatory education and discussion to raise awareness of the historic relationship between Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples in the part of the world now known as North America.

Why is this training important? Native American/Indigenous leaders say that much of the strife in the world is happening today because people have forgotten their original instructions and aren't acting with good minds and relationships to other humans and the world around them. Learning about our history enables us to remember the mistakes we have made so we are not doomed to repeat them.

To Register: Go to <https://forms.gle/U4Wm5yBmFAjPPbEa7> or please scan QR code and fill out form:

*Nekanęsakt
Friends of Ękwehęwę*

Led by Nekanęsakt: Friends of Ękwehęwę. Hosted by Niagara University's Indigenous Peoples Club and Justice House program. Sponsored by Native American Community Services (NACS) and Neighbors of the Onondaga Nation.